The Terrapin Club

What is the Terrapin Club?

As the scholarship fund-raising arm of the athletic department, the Terrapin Club is composed of approximately 4,500 members who contribute money annually to help pay the scholarship costs of our student-athletes. For many student-athletes, scholarships are the only means available to continue their education; for others, scholarships provide the opportunity to compete at the highest level of athletic competition in America's premier conference, the Atlantic Coast Conference.

With nearly 600 student-athletes, 400 of whom benefit from scholarship support, the scholarship bill for the coming year is approximately $4.5 million. For the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1998, the Terrapin Club contributed approximately $2.8 million toward scholarships.

How Much Should I Contribute?

As a Terrapin Club member, you can contribute the minimum of $125 or any higher amount. Your benefits of membership, however, do vary depending on your level and amount of contribution. The Terrapin Club is composed of seven levels of membership, ranging from the Top Terp level, where members contribute at least $10,000 per year, to the Silver level, where members contribute $125 per year.

What Benefits Do I Receive for Being a Member?

Members of the Terrapin Club directly assist the university in providing athletic scholarships. In addition, benefits of membership include priority seating for football and basketball, preferred parking, a monthly newsletter, and invitations to receptions and Terrapin Club events. Furthermore, you must be a member of the Terrapin Club to purchase men's basketball season tickets.

What Methods of Contributing are Available?

Direct gifts are the most common way of contributing. They are made in the form of cash, stock, checks or credit card (Visa or Mastercard). As a donor, you have the option of contributing once annually or periodically throughout the year.

Still Have Questions?

Call the Terrapin Club at (301) 314-7020 or (800) 653-7667.

Maryland 19th in Sears Directors' Cup

In final standings released by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), the Terrapins' program was ranked tied for 19th out of 306 Division I schools last year. It is the highest finish for the Terps since the rankings began five years ago, and Maryland's 38-position jump from the No. 57 spot in 1994-95 is the greatest in that time by a school not previously ranked in the Top 25.

University of MARYLAND

Excellence In Education

There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland. As Washingtonian magazine noted in its December, 1997 issue, "...kids are turning down schools like Princeton and Virginia to go to College Park." With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C. and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are more than 100 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. For instance, in the 1998 U.S. News and World Report rankings of graduate schools, the Clark School of Engineering was ranked 13th in the nation, the School of Public Affairs was ranked 27th, and also was named one of the country's 25 best business schools for entrepreneurs by Success magazine. And, the university's School of Music was ranked 30th in the country in the first U.S. News and World Report reputational survey of arts programs since 1994.

The reputation of the School of Music promises to grow when the Maryland Center for the Performing Arts opens in 2000. With a 1,200-seat concert hall, a 300-seat recital hall, a 650-seat proscenium theater, a 200-seat dance studio and a 200-seat experimental theater with state-of-the-art lighting, acoustics and theatrical design elements, it will be an ideal home for university-based performing arts programs.

For exceptional students seeking an exceptional education at the University of Maryland, College Park, there are a number of programs designed to enrich the learning experience. Among them are the Honors Program, ranked among the nine best in the country by Ivy League Programs at State School Prices; College Park Scholars, which encourages students who share common intellectual interests to live and study together in 10 specialty areas; and the Gemstone Program, which links student teams from engineering, the humanities, business and the physical sciences in a four-year research project.

Supporting the research needs of students and faculty are some of the country's best research facilities. In 1994, the largest, most technically advanced research archives in the world — National Archives II — moved to College Park. In addition, just outside of College Park are the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institution and the National Libraries of Agriculture and Medicine, among others. The university itself has the most comprehensive library system in the area.

The University of Maryland, College Park, as the flagship campus of the state higher education system, is a vital part of Maryland's current prosperity and its vision for the future. For students here, the state offers a bounteous extension of the campus' own wealth of opportunity.

High tech, engineering and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internship and work-study opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide. The Kennedy Center alone houses the National Symphony Orchestra, five performance stages, an opera company, and the American Film Institute. In Baltimore, one of the great ports of the world, the Inner Harbor has become a cultural magnet for thousands of tourists each year, offering the National Aquarium, the Maryland Science Center, and other attractions.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland, College Park offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities. There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.

President C.D. Mote Jr.

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. started his tenure as president of the University of Maryland, College Park, with the same three-word slogan that has guided his entire academic career: "Quality, Quality, Quality."

From his first day in office, Sept. 1, 1998, Mote has shaped his agenda around the achievement of high quality in every aspect of university activity, from students to sports, and from research to community involvement. Fortunately, Maryland was already well on its way.

"Maryland is a university on the move," Mote said. "That's why I am so excited by this position after spending almost my entire academic career at Berkeley. We have a goal to achieve a place among the 10 highest quality universities in America, and I know in my bones that is an achievable goal."

Achieving quality has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all of his degrees, through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley. He arrived in College Park determined to continue the same level of achievement in his new post.

After earning his doctorate in Engineering Mechanics from Berkeley in 1963, Mote spent a year as a research fellow at the University of Birmingham in England, then three years as assistant professor of mechanical engineering at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh before returning to Berkeley in 1967.

There he stayed for more than 30 years before coming to Maryland. He earned tenure in 1969 in the Mechanical Engineering Department, and was promoted to Professor in 1973.

Mote served two terms as vice chair of Mechanical Engineering and served as chair from 1987 to 1991. At that time, he was appointed to the FANUC Chair in Mechanical Systems in addition to being named vice chancellor for University Relations, the post he held until accepting the presidency at Maryland in 1998.

Mote has participated with distinction in every phase of the academic enterprise, including classroom teaching, working with students, basic research, applied research and service to the university and the community.

Much respected by his students, Mote earned the 1971 Distinguished Teaching Award and the 1975 Pi Tau Sigma Excellence in Teaching Award for the University of California. He has supervised more than 50 doctoral students, including several who are still in progress, and more than 60 master's theses. He continued teaching and supervising graduate students even during his administrative assignments, and several of his graduate students from Berkeley commute to Maryland to meet with him as they finish their projects. Mote has stated his intention to teach and work with graduate students at Maryland as well.

Mote's research activities have focused on dynamic systems, instrumentation, vibration and biomechanics. He has achieved international recognition for his work on gyroscopic systems, including high-speed translating and rotating systems such as circular and band saws, computer memory disks and tapes. He also has researched the biomechanics of ski injuries and developed safer ski bindings as a result. His research has resulted in more than 300 scholarly publications as well as patents in the United States, Norway, Finland and Sweden.

A registered professional engineer in California, Mote has served in numerous capacities for professional societies, including the National Academy of Engineering (NAE), the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), and is co-editor of its biannual research series, "Skiing Trauma and Safety."

Mote's work has been supported continuously since 1962 by the National Science Foundation, and he also has received research fellowships from the Royal Norwegian Council for Scientific and Industrial Research. The American Society of Mechanical Engineers International elected him to honorary membership in 1975, and he has been elected as well to fellow grade in the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

He was elected to the prestigious National Academy of Engineering in 1988, and in that same year was awarded the Humboldt Prize by the Federal Republic of Germany. In 1991, the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science awarded him a fellowship.

In 1992, he conceived, designed and implemented a $1.1 billion comprehensive capital campaign, which had achieved more than $800 million at the time he left Berkeley.

Shortly after he arrived at Maryland, this university's ongoing capital campaign passed the halfway point more than four months ahead of schedule, but Mote has said repeatedly that development and capital campaigns are not about raising money.

"It's about building relationships, with alumni, with business and government, with students and parents. We build those relationships by connecting the alumni and friends of the university with the quality people and quality programs on campus. If we succeed in building authentic relationships, fund-raising happens as naturally as water flowing downhill."

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children.

Maryland TERRAPINS

Among the Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletic program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrive on tradition and excellence.

Academic Excellence

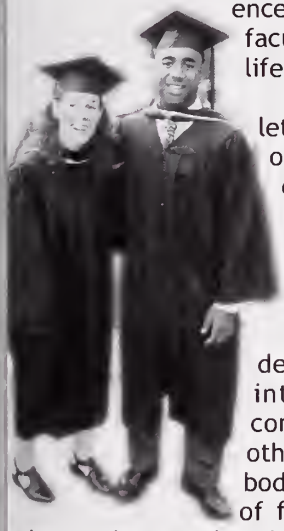
The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.



The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.

Goals

The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletic department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletic director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.

Athletic Success

National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletic programs. The Terrapins have won 13 national championships, including a record four consecutive by the women's lacrosse team. The Terrapins had plenty of reason to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 1997-98, as they posted their highest finish ever (No. 19) in the national Sears Directors' Cup all-sports ranking. Its 38-position jump from the No. 57 spot in 1994-95 is the greatest in that time by a school not previously ranked in the top 25.

Competition

Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletic department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.

Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow

The University of Maryland athletic department has made remarkable progress under the leadership of Deborah A. Yow over the past four years. Budgets are now balanced and the inherited operating debt of almost $7 million has been paid in full. There is a spirit of excitement and pride at Maryland and the department has a clear vision for its future.

In her inspiring first meeting with the staff, shortly after she was named A.D. in the summer of 1994, she challenged the Terrapin athletic department to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools...to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those which we place upon ourselves."

Yow Elected 2nd VP of NACDA

Deborah A. Yow was elected second vice president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics this past June and is scheduled to assume the organization's presidency in July 2000. Her term as second vice-president began July 1. Now in its 33rd year, NACDA serves as the professional and educational association for more than 5,100 college athletic directors, associates, assistants and conference commissioners at more than 1,600 institutions throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. Yow is the second woman to serve as an officer of NACDA (Barbara Hedges, athletic director at the University of Washington, held office from 1994-97).

Yow has rallied the department toward the achievement of five strategic goals:

1) Generate significantly higher revenues with increased corporate sponsorships, aggressive marketing and more effective fundraising;

2) Boost the graduation rate of Terrapin athletes to a level equal to the general student body;

3) Raise the level of competitive achievement nationally and in the Atlantic Coast Conference, while carefully complying with ACC and NCAA rules;

4) Develop a streamlined, highly efficient athletics organization;

5) Provide outstanding customer service.

In achieving most of these goals over her first four years as athletic director, Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department from a debt-ridden, under-achieving organization to a responsive and financially sound model - with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence. Maryland now ranks in the top 10 percent of all NCAA Division I programs competitively across all sports, is competing effectively in the ACC, and set an enviable record of 150 All-ACC academic honor roll student-athletes. Corporate sponsorship revenues are up 265 percent and annual fund-raising for scholarships has increased 60 percent. Maryland is a remarkably improved athletic program.

In 1997, Yow formed the employee "Committee on Quality in the Workplace" to recommend initiatives to improve working conditions and to design programs to recognize the value of athletic department employees. This has proved to be a wonderful tool in recognizing the worth of the university's outstanding employees across the department. There is a compelling sense that the Terrapin athletic department is a family, with a common goal and a shared purpose.

Maryland's athletic director recently observed, "We have the finest coaches, support staff, and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work, and cooperation that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all our successes...and the basis for our bright future."

Regarding the many achievements of the Terrapin athletic program, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied...our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently...we see no reason to settle for less." Yow, who is a member of the NCAA Management Council and other prestigious national groups, is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and expects maximum effort from herself and those around her. Her words set the tone for everyone in athletics: "Winning isn't everything, but the will to win is." She points out that this applies in the classroom, on the field of competition, and in life.

A former basketball coach, Yow was the first male or female at the Division I level to lead three schools

(Kentucky, Oral Roberts, Florida) to their first-ever appearances in the national Top 25. Her previous significant administrative experience came at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and as a pioneer female athletic director at Saint Louis University (1990-94).

The Maryland athletic department staff is working as a focused, talented and determined team under the dynamic leadership of Dr. Deborah A. Yow and is realizing steady and remarkable progress across all areas, with the best yet to come.

With a clear vision and with high aspirations for Maryland athletics, the Terps prepare to enter the new century on a dramatic upward thrust. The athletics staff embraces this prospect, with gratitude for its successes and with renewed determination to further enhance the program's national stature. It has the skill and determined leadership to reach its lofty goals, as a part of this great university. And it will.

She also assists in the solicitation of gifts for the capital campaign, coordinating her efforts through the athletic advancement office.

She earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Maryland's College of Business and Management with a concentration in personnel and labor relations and her master's from Syracuse in 1998.

She and her husband Michael reside in Silver Spring.

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletics program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body.

The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student.

The mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit, headed by assistant athletic director Demetrius Marlowe, is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance the academic progress, facilitate the career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of every student-athlete.

MAPS Directory

This directory, produced annually by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin their professional careers. Distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses around the region, prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements.

Terp Choices

Terp Choices is a program designed to guide student-athletes by orienting, supporting and increasing awareness of the relevant issues pertaining to student-athletes in today's world. The focus of the program is making personal choices and how they may affect an entire team, not just a single individual. Education and interactive workshops are presented to the athletic team and are led by student educators.

Career Information Fairs

Career Awareness in Academic Support is expanding to include a variety of programs which will be offered for student-athletes throughout the semester. Career awareness will be an ongoing process and will include assistance with resume writing and interview skills. The end of the semester will bring a career awareness fair which will host a number of professionals with whom student-athletes can learn about career interests and planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen area of interest.

Team Maryland

Team Maryland is a class taught in conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership in which student-athletes are exposed to leadership and public speaking skills and techniques. The program consists of a group of volunteer student-athletes who learn about the challenges for children in the community by speaking to different elementary schools about drug abuse and the importance of education.

In conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership, participants are taught leadership skills and public speaking techniques to use in their school-based presentation. In addition to school visits, Team Maryland has hosted visits from local schools to our campus.

1999 Season Outlook

Terps aim for second ACC title in three years

Good Times Ahead for Maryland Softball in 1999

Things just keep getting better for head coach Gina LaMandre and the Maryland softball team. In four years of action, the team has already won an Atlantic Coast Conference championship, averaged more than 25 victories a season and established a foundation that has it building toward the future while playing in the present.

Maybe the most exciting aspect of the Terps' softball team this season is the fact that the members of LaMandre's first recruiting class are now seniors. The trio of All-America candidate pitcher Kelly Shipman and infielders Amy Sandler and Fawna Lackovic lead the Terps into the most challenging season in the short history of the program.

Maryland returns one of the top pitchers in the nation, six position players and its top designated player in its bid to win its second ACC title. The Terps won 28 games in 1998 (the second most in school history) and finished with a 4-4 record in conference play. Maryland closed 1998 with three victories in its last four games and defeated NCAA Tournament participant Florida State during the final week of the regular season.

Fawna Lackovic

The View From the Mound

Maryland should be one of the pitching-rich teams in the ACC with Shipman and freshman Amanda Bettker teaming up to give the Terps a formidable starting rotation. Freshman Danielle Carpenter and junior Cortney Madea round out the staff.

Shipman, a four-year starter and one of the top all-around players in the ACC, returns as the anchor of the staff. Shipman is the most prolific pitcher in the program's history. She is the all-time team leader in victories (54), innings pitched (621.1), strikeouts (747), shutouts (32), complete games (87) and appearances (103). Shipman owns a career ERA of 0.90 (also the best in school history) and has struck out 200 or more batters in the each of her first three seasons. She struck out a career-high 285 batters during the 1996 season.

In 1998, Shipman won 13 games and led the ACC in total strikeouts (208) and strikeouts per seven innings (8.03) while finishing among the league leaders in ERA (1.58). She recorded eight shutouts.

Shipman is also the top hitter in the short history of the program. She is the all-time Terp record holder for career hits (145), home runs (10), doubles (28), triples (3), RBI (66) and batting average (.330). She hit a career-high .355 with eight home runs and 30 RBI while leading the team with a .592 slugging percentage last season. Shipman's batting average and slugging percentage established single-season school records.

Bettker, a hard throwing right-hander, will begin her career in the Terps' starting rotation. She could prove to be one of the top newcomers in the ACC. She possesses strong pitching mechanics and will be a big addition to the pitching staff.

Carpenter, a left-hander, will see playing time as a true freshman in the pitching rotation while Madea will split time as the Terps' designated hitter and on the pitching mound. Carpenter will add to the staff as the only lefty. Madea last pitched for the Terps during the 1997 season as she struck out 16 in only nine appearances.

"We have one of the top pitchers in the ACC and the nation in Shipman," LaMandre said. "Kelly possesses the wonderful ability to be able to combine her pitching skills with her tremendous knowledge of the game making her very dangerous on the mound. The fact that she has also been one of the top hitters in the ACC during her career and her abilities as a field player only make her that much more valuable. Bettker is going to be a very good pitcher for us. She is a big-time pitcher who will win a lot of games for us."

Kelly Shipman

Behind the Plate

Junior Sarah Putnam, who played in 29 games in 1998, and freshman Beth Radford give Maryland a strong catching tandem to go a long with 1998 All-ACC first teamer Fawna Lackovic, who is the Terps' most versatile player and figures to see time at catcher.

Putnam has shown consistent improvement in the many technical aspects of the position and begins the season as the Terps' starter. She was Maryland's top defensive player last season with a .996 fielding percentage as she committed only one error in 236 chances. Putnam was one of the team's top hitters last season despite being slowed by a late-season hand injury. She finished the season among the team leaders in hits per at-bat. Radford adds another strong bat to the lineup and will vie for playing time from the beginning of preseason practice.

1999 Season Outlook

Terps aim for second ACC title in three years

Around the Horn

Seniors Amy Sandler, who hit a career-high .331 in 1998, will be Maryland's primary second baseman, and Fawna Lackovic, who hit a career-high .306 in 1998, will concentrate on first and third base this season, but also play some behind the plate. Sandler and Lackovic enter the season as the most experienced players in Terps softball history with each having played 157 career games.

Sandler is the all-time program leader in runs scored (95) and ranks third all-time in hits (132). She was Maryland's primary starter at second base and played the outfield when Shipman was not on the mound. She is the quintessential lead-off batter who struck out only 12 times in 157 at-bats as a junior. She is also one of the steadiest fielders on the team with only nine errors in nearly 100 chances last season.

Lackovic, the Terps' most versatile player, finished the 1998 season as the team's starting catcher. She hit .306 and drove in 21 runs. She was also a perfect seven-for-seven in stolen bases last season. Her defensive ability and versatility make her a leading candidate to start at either first or third base or catcher this season. She can, though, play four infield positions and is an outstanding hitter.

Sophomore Jen Potzman, one of the top rookies in the ACC last season, returns as Maryland's starting shortstop. She started all 50 games and hit .313 as a freshman. She established a program record for doubles and hit six home runs while displaying her future all-star candidacy.

Sophomore Michelle Burrell, the starter at third base during her inaugural collegiate season, will see time there and in the outfield this season. She has improved her concentration at the plate during the off-season and should improve on her team-leading two triples in 1998.

Freshman Kiesha Pickeral is expected to earn playing time at both first base and right field. She may be one of the team's best hitters and could threaten all of Maryland's hitting records by the end of her career. Sophomore Janet Richmond will add depth on the roster at the shortstop position.

In the Outfield

Returning regulars Brooke Maslo and Angie Zittle return as starters in the outfield. Sophomores Annmarie Browne and Chrissy Miller, junior Kim Miller and freshman Holly Baldwin add depth to the position and battle for the third starter's spot. Maslo was a starter for the final one-third of her freshman season and should be one of the starters this season. She played in 31 of Maryland's 50 games in 1998 and reads the ball off the bat as well as any of the team's outfielders. She scored five runs and had four hits in a limited number of at-bats last season.

Zittle, also a sophomore, worked her way into the lineup early during her freshman year, and was among the team leaders in games played with 42. She had 22 hits and 11 RBI and was nearly flawless in the outfield. Her three doubles placed her among the team leaders.

Browne was another player who also earned her way into the starting lineup late in the season as she became accustomed to the game at the collegiate level.

Amy Sandler

The Millers - Kim and Chrissy - will compete for playing time at one of the three outfield positions. Both earned playing time last season and displayed strong defensive and offensive capabilities.

Baldwin, a newcomer who hits from the left side, will earn her chance to compete for playing time as the season progresses. She has a quick first step out of the batter's box which will help her maintain a high on-base percentage.

The Schedule

Maryland faces the most formidable schedule in the history of the program. The Terps will play in top-ranked tournaments at South Florida, Arizona State and Florida State. They have games scheduled against last season's No. 2 (Arizona), No. 5 (Nebraska) No. 8 (South Florida), No. 14 (Florida State) and No. 21 (Illinois-Chicago) ranked teams during the season.

Head Coach Gina LaMandre

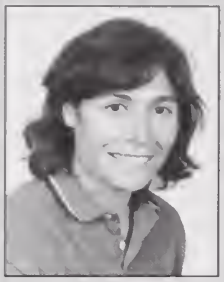
Fifth season at Maryland • Trenton State '86



Maryland head softball coach Gina LaMandre knows very well that a child has to learn to crawl before it can walk. Following three straight seasons above the .500 mark, it appears that LaMandre and her Terrapins are beginning to take big steps.

When LaMandre was hired in 1995 to construct a newly-developed Maryland softball program, it was her intent to build a first-class program. Last year's club finished 28-22, following back-to-back seasons when she was named Mid-Atlantic Region coach of the year — in what were then just the second and third years of the program.

In 1997, the Terrapins took perhaps their biggest step toward becoming a recognizable program. The Terps, in only their third year of existence, captured a share of the 1997 Atlantic Coast Conference championship with defending champion Florida State. The Terps finished the regular season at 26-23, and used a 3-1 ACC Tournament mark to claim a share of the title. LaMandre was rewarded by her peers, for the second straight season, as the Speedline/NSCA Coach of the Year for the Mid-Atlantic Region.

When LaMandre began her assault on constructing the Maryland program, she was handed a roster that included 16 underclassmen, and no aid of athletic scholarships. Despite the shortcomings, Maryland finished its initial Division I campaign with a 15-33 record.

The second season under LaMandre was even more promising. The Terrapins improved from their modest beginnings to a 33-24-1 mark in 1996. The Maryland pitching staff combined for a nation's-best 0.82 ERA, with then-freshman Kelly Shipman posting the second-best ERA in the nation (0.51). The efforts paid off in the end with LaMandre garnering Speedline/NSCA Coach of the Year accolades, and Shipman earning ACC Rookie of the Year honors.

Bigger steps followed with the ACC Tournament run in 1997, followed by a third straight winning season last spring.

Prior to her arrival in College Park, LaMandre was an assistant coach at Massachusetts for eight seasons. Her primary responsibilities included developing the pitching staff and recruiting of student-athletes.

LaMandre's involvement in softball dates to her playing days at Trenton State College where she was a two-time All-American in 1984 and 1985, and was named Trenton State's Female Athlete of the Year in 1985. She served her alma mater as pitching coach, and strength and conditioning coach for one year before taking a job as an assistant coach at Massachusetts.

LaMandre is a member of the National Softball Coaches Association, the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the American College of Sports Medicine.

Assistant Coach Rachel Lawson

Third season at Maryland • Massachusetts '94

In her third year with the Terrapins, assistant coach Rachel Lawson has made the transition from "player" to "coach" rather smoothly. Lawson ended a standout playing career at Massachusetts in 1994, and three years later was tabbed by her former coach to help build the Maryland program in the spring of 1997.

Lawson joined Gina LaMandre in just the third year of Maryland's program. In Lawson's first season with the Terrapins, Maryland finished 3-1 in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament to capture a share of the ACC championship with Florida State. The Terps finished 26-23 in her first season with the program, and 28-22 last season.

During her own career, she was a four-year letterwinner with the Minutewomen where she led UMass to a 1992 third-place finish at the College World Series, and a pair of NCAA regional appearances. A two-time Atlantic-10 all-conference selection at first base, Lawson was named to the Atlantic-10 all-tournament teams in 1992 and 1994.

During her four-year collegiate career, she helped Massachusetts claim four consecutive regular season championships in the Atlantic-10, and three tournament titles.

Lawson attended Massachusetts after her family moved East from Billings, Montana. She grew up in Colorado, south of Denver, before finishing her high school years in Billings. Lawson graduated from UMass in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in exercise science. She completed a master's degree in sports management at Maryland in 1997.

Strength & Conditioning

Collegiate softball has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Corliss White that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the softball team has brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for softball is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. White makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in softball goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the softball team here at Maryland.

Some Place Special

Annapolis ... Baltimore ... Washington, D.C.

City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes. Jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations. Shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland. It's all here beyond the campus.

The nation's capital and its major attractions are within 10 miles of College Park. And the highly efficient Metro rail system, with a new station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C., area easy. Campus shuttles serve the College Park Metro station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

Baltimore is just 35 miles north of the University of Maryland. Its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented. The Inner Harbor, its national aquarium and tall ships, and the nearby Oriole Park at Camden Yards create an exciting, vibrant, holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports. The heart of Maryland, the Chesapeake Bay, is 20 miles from campus, and the state capital, Annapolis, is 30 miles away.

Oriole Park at Camden Yards

The Baltimore Aquarium

The Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument and the United States Capitol

Campus neighbors include such important national resources as the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institutions, the National Institutes of Health, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Center.

Washington and Baltimore can be reached easily from anywhere in the world. USAir, which is headquartered in the metropolitan area, uses Baltimore/Washington International Airport as its hub. Dulles International Airport is a hub for United Airlines. College Park is 10 minutes from the Amtrak Northeast Corridor Line and frequent train service along the East Coast.
